The Amalfi Coast

The AMALFI COAST is so picturesque, with its white and pastel colour villages, dripping with flowers, that cling precariously to steep sea cliffs. The landscape is profuse in bright-hued flowers and the coastal air is rich in fresh ocean-spray scents. POSITANO, AMALFI and RAVELLO offer medieval palazzos, Mediterranean Villas with incredible views, stylish and sophisticated venues for wedding receptions...

The Island of Capri and Ischia

The island of CAPRI and ISCHIA are an opera of shiny white houses, tiny squares, and narrow medieval alleyways hung with flowers. Its incredible vistas, fragrant flowers, brilliant blue waters and romantic walks make it a perfect location for your wedding in Italy. Wonderful settings are available for civil, protestant, symbolic weddings.

Sorrento

If ever an area captured the truly colourful Mediterranean flavour of Italy it is surely SORRENTO. An inspiration to poets, writers and artists for hundred years, today it's attraction is as powerful as always. Colourful and lively, Sorrento offers unique and romantic venues for your wedding in Italy.

Florence

Birthplace of the Renaissance, FLORENCE has been likened to a magnificent banquet. This noble city has endless delights to savour and the best way to drink them all in is to walk. Florence is so rich in Art and history that is undoubtedly a magical place to get married.

Friuli Venezia e Giulia

Palatial villas, rose-laden belvederes, hanging gardens with wisteria and bougainvillea, dreamy mountain vistas...Choose to celebrate your Italian wedding in LAKE GARDA, LAKE COMO or the romantic and intimate LAKE ORTA.

Rome

ROME it is so unique and incredible that it is a little wonder that everyone throws a coin into the Trevi Fountain to ensure their return. Here you will find ancient ruins dating back over 2000 years, together with Renaissance churches and modern architecture. An incredible selection of Roman Catholic churches, ancient town halls immersed in historical areas, Protestant churches, Jewish synagogues, Orthodox churches...and much more in this eternal capital of the world.

Tuscany

It is absolutely romantic and breathtaking.

TUSCANY is ideal for couple seeking romance, charm and spectacular backdrops: perfect walled medieval towns, glorious vineyards, secular olive trees, rolling hills with poppies and sunflowers....The wonderful CHIANTI REGION, CERTALDO, CORTONA, SAN GIMIGNANO, MONTEPULCIANO, MONTALCINO, SIENA, VOLTERRA, AREZZO are only few of the possible options for a Tuscan wedding.

Venice

VENICE has remained timeless and unique, a city without wheels, a metropolis of romantic waterways, which continue to exude an air of melancholy, nostalgia, richness and romance. Its world-familiar landmarks, St. Marks Basilica, The Doge's Palace, The Rialto and Bridge of Sighs are admired by all. There is no other city in the world romantic as Venice and definitely one of the top location for a memorable Italian marriage.

Verona

Weddings in Verona are absolutely romantic! No wonder Shakespeare choose this charming city as the setting for Romeo and Juliet, the world's most famous love story. Nor could he have set his "Two gentlemen" in a more fitting context than this lively and elegant city. For Verona is a true gem.

Castles

Imagine a pair of huge oaken doors, two stories tall, opening slowly and ponderously before you, revealing a long stone room, with torches flickering along the walls and a throng of people standing, looking at you with awe. Your eyes, however, are riveted upon the most handsome man in the room, standing at the far end of the chamber, the love in his eyes lighting your path to the alter beside him. This could be your castle wedding in Italy.

There are few countries – if any – with more castles than the ancient country of Italy. Italy, after all, was the home of the Renaissance and was home to some of the wealthiest families and bankers in all of Europe. These wealthy merchants as well as rich merchants from colder climates around Europe, flocked to the lakes and the mountains and the seashore of Italy and built a profusion of magnificent castles, each grander and more imposing than the last.

Costa Smeralda

Costa Smeralda is a six-mile stretch of coastline between the gulfs of Cugnana and Arzachena on the island of Sardinia's northeast coast. The local villages and towns have become resorts filled upscale holiday resorts, beautiful private villas, shopping malls, and marinas dotted with gorgeous yachts. The main town in Costa Smeralda is Porto Cervo, a clean and crime-free playing field for the wealthy. This area is the epitome of pampered living: the rich relax around their villas and yachts, and celebrities can be found loitering throughout. Legend has it that a wealthy group of businessmen first established this area and turned it into a wild coastal strip for the privileged during the 1960s. Yet aside from its affluence and opulence, Costa Smeralda is a stunning place and a perfect setting for a tranquil getaway. The region is also a prime choice for an elegant wedding ceremony and honeymoon.

Islands

Italy offers in several of its different regions marriage locations on romantic islands.

In Sicily and Sardinia along the extensive coastline many towns and cities offer both panoramic views of the water as well as sandy beaches where couples get married. Many smaller islands such as Capri, Ischia, Elba and Lipari fight with each other as to which offer the bluest waters and most secluded wedding and honeymoon locations.

Lakes

There is a storybook place in Italy known as The Lakes Region that has been lifted from the pages of a fairytale and brought to life. The large glacial lakes in the Italian Alps on the Swiss border are the stuff that dreams are made of. Lake Como, Lake Garda, Lake Maggiore and Lake Lugano comprise one of the most romantic and ancient wedding and honeymoon retreats in all of Italy.

For two thousand years these Lakes have been fought over and prized for their crystal clear water and their vistas which seem to go on forever – and for their sheer romantic beauty. Writers, poets and lovers have sought to describe these indescribable wonders of nature and all have fallen short.

Surrounding these lakes are dozens of ancient castles and stately Villas, as well as new five-star hotels and restaurants, all of them welcoming lovers with open arms.

Italian Seaside

Few things are more romantic than a seaside wedding. There is something primal and life-affirming about the ocean that has drawn romantics and lovers since the beginning of time. If you have always dreamed of a sunset wedding along the shores of the graceful Mediterranean Ocean, then there is no better place for you to be wed than in the Land of Amore...the country of Italy.

Italy has more shoreline than any other country in Europe, affording you the largest number of breath-taking seaside vistas in which to say..."I do!" The Italian Riviera is known the world over as one of the most beautiful and exclusive stretches of coastline on Earth. Imagine tying the knot at the seaside along the Italian Riviera. Just south of the Italian Riviera is the renowned Amalfi Coast, so breathhtakingly beautiful that it is said that this is where the ancient gods held their wedding ceremonies.

Villas

Italy is arguably the most romantic country in the world. There's no argument that Italy has some of the oldest ruins, the most ancient and awe-inspiring churches and monasteries, probably the most imposing collection of 11th and 12th century castles to be found anywhere and mile after mile of scenic coastline.

And then there are the Villas. Italy is filled with some of the most gorgeous and stunning Villas to be found anywhere. One of the reasons is because Italy has such a warm and inviting climate that royalty and the wealthy have always flocked to Italy as a place to build their summer homes, their Villas.

This abundance of stately and immaculate Villas means that virtually wherever you wish to be married in Italy, from the Italian Riviera, to the Amalfi Coast, to Sicily or the Lakes Region or anywhere in between there are dozens and dozens of eye-popping villas just waiting for you and your wedding party.

Palazzos

What young girl hasn't dreamed at one time or another of being married in a beautiful Palace...a Palazzo! Every girl dreams of being a Princess and of marrying her handsome and charming Prince – and where else do you marry a Prince except in a grand Palazzo?

If you have dreams of holding your wedding ceremony in a stately and elegant Palace – a Palazzo – then your every fantasy can come true a thousand times over in the almost magical country of Italy! Italy is literally brimming over with magnificent palaces, many of them a thousand years old or more, and most of them are available for your very special day.

Whether you wish to hold a traditional wedding ceremony, or whether you have your heart set on a theme ceremony, such as a Renaissance or medieval wedding, your wedding planner can make all of the arrangements for your wedding to be conducted in an honest-to-goodness Palazzo in almost any part of Italy. Costumes, period music, and actors speaking in period dialect are all easily arranged by an experienced wedding facilitator.
