WEDDINGS IN ITALY

We offer ceremony and reception locations for weddings all over Italy even in remote towns and villages.

Wedding Options

Italy offers hundreds of historic halls in every country town and city exceptionally well suited for the most romantic events. Religious rites can be celebrated in magnificent Protestant and Catholic churches or Jewish Synagogues where the celebration will be held in accordance with all civil and religious requirements; also valid in your country. we can arrange for you to be united with both a civil and religious rite in the same ceremony.

There is no residency requirement to marry in Italy. This allows foreigners to tie the knot and honeymoon in any location without bureaucratic delays. In some cases you can arrive and marry within two days.

We will plan your wedding in every detail .

Most of the paperwork is prepared in your country of origin and filed prior to arrival. Depending on citizenship you may need to complete some final paperwork. A civil service performed in Italy is legally recognized throughout the world. The certificate you are given is multi-lingual and valid internationally and can be issued in several different copies. All that you must do is register it in your home country, in which case the marriage laws applicable in that home state will apply.

Matrimony in a Catholic church can be either a religious blessing (where the couple arrives already legally bound) or a priest can perform both a catholic and a civil ceremony simultaneously.

For anniversaries (couples already married) there is the option of a romantic symbolic ceremony with all the trimmings. A symbolic ceremony follows traditional lines but will not hold any religious or civil status. Holding no restrictions allows couples to have it just about anywhere granting them complete freedom to celebrate both ceremony and reception in their location of choice.

We can arrange for a civilly binding Protestant destination weddings or a religious blessing. If you opt for a civilly binding religious ceremony we will have a pastor authorized by the Italian State to celebrate in the villa or palace or location of choice.

We plan unforgettable wedding receptions from 2 to hundreds either in one of the famous historical restaurants, or inside superb castles, villas and palazzos.

Weddings in Liguria

Liguria borders southern France and its sparkling coastline is known as the Italian Riviera. Coupled with a stunning mountainous backdrop, this region is a highly popular choice for weddings in Italy.

Genoa is Liguria's capital and the largest port in Italy. This vibrant and highly atmospheric city is home to a cosmopolitan community, and its rich past has left it with a fascinatingly dense old town and some beautiful architecture.

East of the capital is the Riviera di Levante - a coastal strip characterized by a succession of small bays overlooked by rugged cliffs. The scenery in this region is superb - fishing villages, vineyards and mountains including the Monte di Portofino, which offers great views over the sea. There are many chic resorts situated along the coast, including Portofino and Santa Margherita Ligure.

West of Genoa is the Riviera di Ponente - more lovely coastline and several popular Riviera resorts. The largest of these is San Remo, which is a center of the Italian flower industry, its hillsides covered in glasshouses. Some quieter destinations along the coast include the medieval towns of Albenga and Noli, and the pretty seaside town of Finale Ligure.

Head to inland Liguria for mountain slopes carpeted in vines and olive trees, remote mountain villages and secluded resorts high in the mountains. This part of the region provides a real contrast with the coast and has its own special appeal.

Golden sands, deep blue waters and rugged mountains all await you. Wherever you choose to celebrate your wedding in Liguria, you can be assured that it is an excellent choice.

Weddings in Veneto

Venice is the city that immediately comes to mind when the Veneto is mentioned. The Venetian nobility once ruled over this wealthy, diverse region, and their distinctive architectural style is still evident today in many parts of the Veneto, a lasting legacy of their influence. Venice itself is naturally the regional capital, and has been described as the most romantic city in the world. Its unforgettable atmosphere makes it a magical place to get married.

There is much more to the Veneto than Venice, however. Each of the major cities - Verona, Belluno, Vicenza and Padua - has its own special allure, whilst beyond them lie vineyards, farming estates and tranquil expanses of flatland. Alongside thriving industry and commerce, this prosperous region is also a leading agricultural producer.

A visit to the Veneto is a richly rewarding experience. Strikingly beautiful cities enclosed by lovely countryside make this region one of the most popular destinations in Italy. Your wedding in the Veneto will be a romantic day to remember forever.

Weddings in Umbria

The beautiful central Italian region of Umbria is a lovely place to celebrate your wedding. It is known both for its gentle pastoral landscapes and its classic hill towns, home to artistic and architectural treasures. St. Francis of Assisi and St. Benedict are just two of the saints who were born in the region, lending Umbria the title of 'Land of Saints'.

Timelessly elegant hill towns and overwhelming natural beauty combine to make Umbria one of the most loved regions in Italy. An excellent choice for your Italian wedding, the Land of Saints is waiting for your visit.

Weddings in Tuscany

For many, Tuscany embodies the very best of Italy. Your wedding in Tuscany is a chance to immerse yourselves in classic pastoral landscapes, discovering both beautifully preserved medieval architecture and Renaissance art at its most breathtaking. Tuscany was the center of this incredibly creative period in the sixteenth century.

The region's coastal capital, Florence, is resplendent with numerous palaces, museums and galleries. Not only are its churches second-to-none, Florence also boasts the world's fourth-largest cathedral, a stunning pink and white marbled duomo.

Wherever in Tuscany you choose for your wedding, you will surely fall under the spell of this beautiful region. It is an excellent choice for a romantic and unforgettable wedding day.

Weddings in Marche

A highly atmospheric region, Marche is a romantic and picturesque location for your Italian wedding. With its spectacular coastline, scenic interior and many historic towns and villages, Marche is typically Italian and offers everything the country is famous for. The ceramics industry is very important, and you may well choose to buy some hand crafted pottery as a souvenir of your time here.

Marche has much to recommend it to lovers of culture and history. The centerpiece of the small hilltop town of Urbino is a spectacular Renaissance palace, whilst the fortress at San Leo is also well worth visiting. Ascoli Piceno is a fascinating city, whilst Macerata is a lively historic town with a varied cultural life that includes an annual ballet and opera. The town is surrounded by beautiful Italian countryside.

From beaches to mountains and towns to countryside, Marche is a both dramatic and picturesque. The region will provide a lovely backdrop to your wedding in Italy.

Weddings in Lazio

Whether you choose the legendary Italian capital, Rome, for your wedding in Lazio, or a historic provincial town surrounded by verdant countryside, it will be an experience never to forget. Rome is undoubtedly the focus of this region, but Lazio has a lot more to offer alongside its compelling capital city.

The Etruscans ruled Lazio for almost a millennium, and important Etruscan sites are found in the region. The most significant is probably Tarquinia, on the southern coast, where necropoli remain. Other key ancient sites in Lazio are Ostia Antica and Tivoli. The villa which once belonged to the Roman Emperor Hadrian is still standing at the latter.

Weddings in Capri

Get married on the tiny island of Capri in the Bay of Naples. The dramatic beauty of its mountains and blazing color of its flower-filled gardens, not to mention the awe-inspiring views on offer from vantage points all over the island make Capri an ideal wedding location.

Bought from Naples by Caesar in 29BC, beautiful Capri has been winning over visitors ever since. The island is a maze of pathways which lead to ancient forts, towers, churches, villas and gardens. The most famous path is the cliffside Via Krupp, on the north of the island, known as 'the world's most beautiful road'.

There are few more picturesque locations for your wedding photographs than Capri. The island is recommended as an excellent choice for your wedding in Italy.

Weddings on the Island of Ischia

Why not get married on the island of Ischia in the beautiful Bay of Naples? With lovely beaches, fishing villages, spa towns, a verdant landscape and much more, Ischia provides a truly picturesque backdrop to your wedding in Italy.

The air in Ischia Porto, the island's main town, is scented with the fragrance of its abundant lemon trees. Ischia Porto boasts some lovely expanses of golden sand, plus countless shops, boutiques and cafés to wander around..

The main attraction of Ischia is an easily accessible offshore rock, upon which is built the dramatically distinctive Castello Aragonese. The castle is accompanied by a complex of historic buildings, which are fascinating to explore.

Close by are two popular coastal spa towns, Casamicciola Terme and Lacco Ameno, both of which have lovely beaches. Lacco Ameno also features two eclectic museums which house pottery, ancient artifacts and a wealth of other interesting items.

Built around a pretty bay, Forio is a larger resort town with a historic center, superbly relaxing thermal baths and many top quality restaurants.

Wherever on the island you choose to exchange your vows, you can be assured that your wedding in Ischia will be an unforgettable day. This delightful island is deservedly one of Italy's most loved destinations.

Weddings in Piedmont

A prosperous and inviting region in Italy's north, Piedmont is a lovely place to get married. The vestiges of many centuries of Savoy rule still linger, particularly in the distinctive architecture favored by these dukes and kings. Today, Piedmont is clearly a region with a very real sense of its heritage.

The legendary city of Turin enjoys its present-day wealth due to it being the center of the Fiat car empire. Its prestigious past is evident in the breathtaking Baroque city center, which is filled with ornate palaces, churches and museums to discover. Turin's museums are highly recommended, containing paintings from northern Europe and antiquities from Egypt.

All in all, a wedding in Piedmont is undoubtedly the most romantic way to discover this lovely region of Italy

Weddings in Lake Maggiore

For more than 2000 years the Lakes Region of Italy, on the border with Switzerland, has been one of the most idyllic and romantic places in the world for both a wedding and a honeymoon – and Lake Maggiore, the second largest of the Lakes, is arguably the most beautiful and the most awe-inspiring.

Lake Maggiore has been a haven for lovers since the time of the great Roman Empire. The area is covered with ancient Roman ruins and filled with castles and churches dating back five to six hundred years, giving this place a sense of history and continuity that few other regions can boast. More recently Lake Maggiore has been a favorite of Queen Victoria, Winston Churchill, playwright George Bernard Shaw, Novelist Ernest Hemingway, and so many more.

Civil wedding ceremonies around Lake Maggiore are like no other civil ceremonies anywhere in the world. You arrive by boat or by horse drawn coach and climb ancient marble steps into a stunning art-filled wedding hall. As you gaze through leaded windows at the tranquil beauty of the Lake, with the snow-tipped Alps reflected in its mirror-like surface, the Mayor of the town himself pronounces you husband and wife.

If you are looking for a special place for your most special day, a place which seems lifted straight out of the pages of an ancient book of fairytales, then Lake Maggiore is the wedding destination you have been dreaming of your entire life.

Destination Weddings in Orta

Small but perfectly formed, Lago d'Orta is one of the prettiest sub-alpine lakes in northern Italy and a lovely place to celebrate a wedding in Italy.

The picturesque town of Orta San Giulio is a maze of narrow cobbled streets, lined with pastel colored houses and opulent palaces. Two piazzas open onto the lake and offer a superb view of the island. You can spend as long as you like relaxing in one of the many pavement cafés here and soaking up the atmosphere. The diminutive town hall, decorated with frescoes, also faces onto the two squares.

Get married in Orta and you will have verdant pine forests and the deep blue waters of the lake as your backdrop. Orta, its island and its quiet lakeside town have been seducing visitors for centuries, and for good reason - your wedding in Orta will be an unforgettable experience
